Leaky Roof!

Have you a leaky roof? Its a mighty bad thing to have, and will likely prove very expensive if you let it continue to leak and damage your building otherwise or a lot of valuable stock. Mr. Smith, who is with me in the roofing business, is one of the best in his line, and if he cannot stop the leak he will tell you so.

I am ready to figure with you on that new home or business house. See me before you build, or let your contract, I MIGHT save you money. I have saved others.

Big Dividends

Are paid to the individual on corporation that curtails its waste.

They do not scrap MACHINERY because it is BROKEN, but put it in the hands of a competent welder to be REPAIRED.

Their LABOR LOSS IS SMALL and men are seldom idle on account of break-downs.

All these things are made possible by the OXY-ACETYLENE process of welding and cutting metals.

Remember, when both machinery and income stop, that your needs will be promptly attended should you call on us.

We are never too busy to answer questions or look at your work. Now listen! Our welding is guaranteed to STAY PUT. That means to never break. Sounds fair enough, don't it? Now if you want reference as to the quality of our repairs, just ask the first man you meet, he knows!

When you see a broken piece of machinery or any broken metal casting, tell the owner about us; we will appreciate it. You will save the owner money, and place him in position to tell Mr. H. C. L. where to head in, when it comes to replacing or repairing broken parts on that tractor, auto, farm implements or anything.

INSECTS AND DISEASES IN THE GARDEN

Insects which attack vegetables may be divided into two groups—those which eat or chew the leaves or fruit, and those which suck the plant juices.

Biting insects may be poisoned by spraying the plants with poisonous solutions or by dusting them with poison powders. Potato beetles, flea beetles, cabbage worms, striped cucumber beetles and similar biting insects may be held in check by spraying the plants with arsenate of lead paste at the rate of two pounds to fifty gallons of water. The spray sticks better, especially on smooth plants like cabbage, if a little soap or molasses is dissolved in the spray. The arsenate of lead may be obtained as a dry powder, mixed in a quantity of flour or air-slaked lime and dusted on the plants.

Sucking insects like plant lice may be held in check by spraying with soap suds, kerosene emulsion or tobacco decoction. Most insects are also repelled to a greater or less degree by the presence of fine dust, which tends to close their breathing pores. For that reason, it is best to keep the surface soil well tilled to maintain a dry, surface dust mulch. Wood ashes, air-slaked lime, insect powder or tobacco dust sprinkled on and about the plants also help to keep down insects.

Most fungous diseases such as celery rust and potato blight, may be held in check by spraying with bordeaux mixture; four pounds copper sulphate; four pounds lime; fifty gallons of water.

Where both insects and fungi are present, it is well to add two pounds of arsenate of lead paste to the fifty gallons of bordeaux mixture. This combination spray is to be recommended especially for potatoes to control the potato beetle and potato blight. Detailed information on the control of garden insects will be found in Extension Service Circular 15, of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture.
